

GLOBAL LIFE CAMPAIGN™

What Happened at the U.S. Capitol and Why are Some Leaders Seeking to Impeach President Trump?

Thomas W. Jacobson, Executive Director, Global Life Campaign (2021-01-13)

In the midst of the hysterical crisis in the United States, during which the future of the nation hangs in the balance, I wanted to provide you with the following through this first GLC Series for 2021: (1) my observations, as a former Congressional staff member, of the anomalies last week at the U.S. Capitol Building; (2) FlashPoint news with evidence of what occurred on January 6; and (3) Rush Limbaugh's broadcast revealing part of the cause of the hysteria (e.g., possible release of classified evidence, which has already started). Also, consider if Trump is a Cyrus.

As a former Congressional staff member, my observations watching live events:

The U.S. Capitol area is one of the most secure public buildings in the world. There are 6 police forces in Washington, DC, including the U.S. Capitol Police, Washington, DC Police, FBI, CIA, Secret Service, and military. Especially when the entire Congress meets in a joint session, or the President comes to speak to the Congress, the entire compound is highly secured, and no one is allowed close to the Capitol Building without clearance. Also, even on normal days, there are multiple Capitol Police stationed at the entrances to the compound and the building entrances, and the public are only allowed entrance to the Capitol Building through a special underground secure entrance on the Capitol grounds away from the building. Observations on January 6:

- It was completely out of order that there was not an unmovable line of barricades and police ensuring that the crowd did not go up to the Capitol Building, and that the police allowed people to be on the steps and at the doors.
- Most of the people on the Capitol grounds that day were peaceful, even after the violence broke out at the entrances, and the peaceful protestors began to leave peacefully, especially when it was near the 6 p.m. curfew.
- There appeared to be three groupings of people: (1) the larger crowd of peaceful protestors on the Capitol grounds, but away from the building; (2) a mixture of peaceful protestors and some who became violent up next to the building; and (3) individuals or a smaller violent group at the Capitol entrances breaking windows and climbing in.
- Video (in FlashPoint below) showing only one policeman substantially back from the entrance where protestors came through; this was suspicious because normally there are several police officers at each entrance, and intruder(s) are immediately subdued.
- President Trump was blamed for the riots, but there has not been any indication in his character that I am aware of, or in his public statements that day and the next day, that could be rightly construed to incite violence. In fact, he called for the protestors to go home peacefully, and when the violence broke out, it was he who dispatched 1,100 National Guard soldiers to secure the Capitol and its surrounding area. Trump has exhibited a high respect for the rule of law, as evidenced also by his commitment on January 7, after Congress accepted the Electoral College votes, to a peaceful transition.

On January 7, I watched FlashPoint for the first time, and this news and interview show contained significant evidence revealing what appears to be a sinister plan and collusion by police and violent protestors and others, but also includes spiritual encouragement from discerning clergy and prophetically gifted leaders as to what they see God doing.

Watch FlashPoint program that aired on January 7, 2021:

This episode includes video clips and screenshots:

- Policemen moved aside some bicycle rack barricades that had been blocking people from coming near the Capitol Building, and one policeman waived the people forward.
- Protesters came into the Capitol Building with no policemen at the door, but one was away from the entrance area, and he backed up and appeared to both oppose them and lead them up the stairs, with a photographer above the policeman and another below with the first intruders.
- A French reporter said she talked with a policeman who said they were told to go home in the morning when they knew there were protestors and it might turn violent; and when violence did break out, the policeman was surprised that the officers were not called back to the Capitol, but he went anyway.
- NPR tweet on January 6, 2021, at 9:33 AM (hours before violence): “Trump Supporters Storm U.S. Capitol, Clash With Police.”
- Cell phone video clips showing 5 state trooper/police vehicles escorting 4 Antifa shuttle buses near the Capitol.
- Tweeted picture of “Michiel Vos (Nancy Pelosi’s son-in-law) with ‘the viking guy with horns’ that was one of the first people to break into the U.S. House today.”

Rush Limbaugh: “The Swamp Is Scared of the Next 12 Days”

<https://www.rushlimbaugh.com/daily/2021/01/08/the-swamp-is-scared-of-the-next-12-days/>

The Rush Limbaugh radio broadcast on Friday, January 8, exposed key reasons why hysteria has broken out among some Congressional leaders and others.

“The entire Washington establishment is poised. They are recoiling in fear. They are cowering in fear in the corners. They are scared to death of Donald Trump. They are scared to death of you. . . . He hasn’t left town. . . . There are all kinds of people who broke the law, all kinds of people who are quaking in their boots. They’re worried silly that Trump is gonna unleash some of these classified documents. . . . They are scared to death — they are terrified — that Trump is gonna pardon people who are dangerous to the establishment. Call it the swamp if you want. Because let me tell you, nothing’s changed. The people in the Washington establishment, why did they want to stop Trump in the first place? Because they didn’t want what they have been up to (which is no good) for years to ever come out. They didn’t want Trump to discover it and release it. They remain petrified for the next 12 days that Trump is going to release — somehow, some way — what he knows about these people. . . . They've got a lot of stuff to keep covered up.”

Exhortations: During the 1700s, when the American Colonists were enduring abuses of power, violations of law, and injustices by government and military forces in power over them, they responded respectfully, peacefully, decisively and forthrightly to address the wrongs done. They clearly wanted lawful, righteous, just civil government, and did not resort to violence and riots. That is our heritage, which we must remember at this time. Thus, I recommend that you:

1. Pray fervently and call for fervent prayer for our nation, including for the calming of inflamed emotions and recourse to non-violent debate and discussions.
2. Pray for and respect President Donald J. Trump and Vice President Mike Pence, for God has commanded us to “fear God (and) honor the king” (leader of the people)(1 Peter 2:17).
3. Church leaders and clergy should lead God’s people in this season in how to discern truth from lies, do good, stand for righteousness, expose evil (Ephesians 5: 1-17, Psalm 37:27-34).
4. Contact all your representatives, and others, to call upon them to immediately undertake meaningful election reforms that will assure future elections are protected from fraud and cheating, including getting rid of the Dominion machines. All legislative actions should be done on the record with roll call voting for transparency.

Cyrus? Consider this Scripture and whether it also pertains to President Donald Trump.

“Thus says the LORD to Cyrus His anointed, whom I have taken by the right hand, to subdue nations before him and to loose the loins of kings; to open doors before him so that gates will not be shut: ‘I will go before you and make the rough places smooth; I will shatter the doors of bronze and cut through their iron bars. I will give you the treasures of darkness and hidden wealth of secret places, So that you may know that it is I, The LORD, the God of Israel, who calls you by your name. For the sake of Jacob My servant, and Israel My chosen one, I have also called you by your name; I have given you a title of honor though you have not known Me. I am the LORD, and there is no other; besides Me there is no God. I will gird you, though you have not known Me; that men may know from the rising to the setting of the sun that there is no one besides Me. I am the LORD, and there is no other, the One forming light and creating darkness, causing well-being and creating calamity; I am the LORD who does all these’” (Isaiah 45:1-7).
